Medical Society Meets.

A very interesting meeting of the Shenandoah Valley Medical Society, which is composed of the five valley counties, was held at Woodstock on Wednesday last. All of the counties were represented and the papers read were very interesting and instructive. Dr. Dively of Harrisonburg, and Drs. Cox and Allen of Winchester read papers of unusual interest, the subject matter of which was discussed by a number of physicians present. These meetings are very valuable to members of the profession and every doctor who has any aspirations toward progress and their individual advancement should make it a point to attend every meeting. The next meeting will be held at Harrisonburg, Va. Dr. Carter of Woodstock is President and Dr. Cox, of Winchester, is Secretary and Treasurer of the society.

NOTICE—Parties who intend to settle their accounts by note will please come forward at once, cash settlements due on or before Dec. 1st, all accounts must be settled by Dec. 1st. Shen. Farmers Union.

THE LAYMEN'S CONVENTION A BIG SUCCESS.

The Laymen's Convention, of all denominations, which was held in this place last Saturday and Sunday was successful far beyond the expectations of its promoters.

The opening session was a men's prayer meeting, conducted by Mr. W. T. Williams in the Presbyterian Chapel Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and was attended by a number of the business men of Woodstock.

At six thirty o'clock over one hundred laymen assembled in the Court House and marched to Lantz Hall, Massanutten Academy, where an elaborate banquet prepared by the ladies from the different churches awaited them. After partaking of the feast a rising vote of thanks was extended to the ladies, whose efforts had contributed so much towards making the convention a success.

Judge E. D. Newman acted as toastmaster and toasts were responded to by Dr. Cyrus J. Masser, of Philadelphia; Dr. Jas. L. Howe, of Washington & Lee University; Rev. J. D. Hamaker, of the Christian church; Dr. John McGill, of the Episcopal church; Col. E. E. Stickle, Prof. Corman, W. T. Williams, Esq., and Hon. M. L. Waiton. These talks were entertaining and instructive and were greatly enjoyed.

A male quartette composed of Revs. R. L. Fultz, A. W. Barley, Prof. H. J. Benchoff and C. C. Skyles rendered several selections.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Home Missionary Day was observed in the Reformed church at which service Dr. Musser preached a missionary sermon to a large and attentive audience. Special music was rendered on this occasion by a large choir and orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. Benchoff.

At the Methodist church Dr. Howe delivered a fine talk on missions and the laymen's movement to a large audience.

Sunday afternoon the laymen of the different congregations met in their respective churches to consider this great question, and to formulate plans and resolutions to be read at the mass meeting to be held at night.

The convention came to a close Sunday night with a large mass meeting in the Methodist church which was addressed by Drs. Musser and Howe. The church and Sunday school room was crowded with people. Hon. M. L. Walton was in charge of the meeting.

Five reports were read by the representatives of the different churches as to what their laymen proposed to do during the coming year in this great movement.

Special music was rendered by the united choirs of the town and a male octette, under the leadership of Prof. Benchoff.

The convention was a success, which can be attested to by the interest aroused among the business men of the town and the large audiences that attended all the meetings.

Church Notes.

Rev. J. C. McInturf returned this week from Mt. Olive where he has been conducting a very successful revival. About forty new members were taken into the church and twenty-three were baptized.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Try Company of the Presbyterian church, held Sunday evening, the following officers were elected:

President—Miss Lucy Ott.
Treasurer—Miss Sue Magruder.
Secretary—Mr. Philip Williams.

The Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Reformed Church at Hudson's Cross Roads on next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Home Missionary Day will be observed in Grace Reformed church at Rinkerton on the Fourth Sunday in the morning at 11 o'clock.

Presbyterian Church Notice.

We are to have a ten days' meeting in our church (Presbyterian) beginning November 24th, 7 p. m., and ending December 4th following. The Rev. Thos. R. Sevier of Alexandria, Va., is to be with us. We cordially invite the co-operation of the public generally by their sympathy and presence.

Union Thanksgiving Services.

Methodist Church, November 24th, 1910, 11 A. M. to 12 M., (one hour promptly). The Rev. Dr. John McGill is to preach the sermon.

The "offering" on the occasion to be for the poor of our town, and to be sent to the treasurers of the churches for distribution.

The choirs of the churches are respectfully requested to unite, for the services, and (if they will permit the suggestion) select appropriate and familiar hymns in which the congregation can join, and also favor us with an anthem.

In view of our promise to be prompt and brief, can we ask the men of the town to be with us, and the stores to close from 11 A. M. to 12 M.,—i. e. during the hour of service, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow!"

Praise Him, all creatures here below." By request of the "Ministers' Association." P. D. STEPHENSON, Nov. 16, 1910. Secretary.

The recital was a rare treat for the music lovers of Baltimore. Mr. Brigham has a marvelous bass voice both in his speaking and his singing. It has great breadth and depth. He has so much volume in his vocal utterance that his half-voice is quite sufficient for any ordinary hall, and his whole voice is more than enough for the largest.—Baltimore American.

At Lantz Hall the evening of Nov. 25th.

Will Promote Beauty.

Women desiring beauty get wonderful help from Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It banishes pimples, skin eruptions, sores and boils. It makes the skin soft and velvety. It glorifies the face. Cures sore eyes, cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands. Best for burns, scalds, fever sores, cuts, bruises and all. 25c at Schmitt's Drug Store.

Song and Dramatic Recital

BY EDWARD BRIGHAM, BASSO PROFUNDO.

None the less dismayed we shall continue the subject of "Art for Art's sake."

On the evening of November 25th, Friday, we shall have a song and Dramatic Recital by Mr. Edward Brigham, of New York. By a chance of good fortune Mr. Brigham will be passing through the valley and we have prevailed upon him to spend a night in Woodstock. The program will be of high literary quality, yet such as will please the generally termed "popular audience." For the lovers of the literary and musical it will promise to be a rare treat and it will give us pleasure if Mr. Brigham is greeted by a full house. Following is the program in view:

MARRIED IN NEW ORLEANS.

A New Orleans dispatch announces the marriage of Mrs. May Allen Jordan, of Mt. Jackson, Va., to Mr. Joseph R. Leguence, secretary of the Texas Rice Dealers' Association of Beaumont, Texas, and Government Statistician of Louisiana and Texas and one of the most prominent leaders in the new Southwest.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Gwyn Rodgers, of the Presbyterian church, at his home, Saturday, at 12 noon.

Only a few intimate friends of the couple were present. Congressmen Robert F. Broussard, of Abbeville, La., of which city Mr. Leguence was formerly mayor, was best man.

Mrs. Leguence is a daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Allen, of Mt. Jackson, and has many friends throughout the Valley. She is a remarkably pretty and attractive young woman vivacious and charming, and a member of one of the best known families in Shenandoah county.

She is a sister of T. W. Allen, owner of the Red Banks farm, one of the finest in Shenandoah; Mrs. Nan Kimball, of Paris, Mrs. Isabella Darbyshire, of Rochester, N. Y., whose husband is Leonard Darbyshire, publisher of "Spare Moments," of Miss Frances L. Allen, a trained nurse of New York; Miss Nell Allen, of Philadelphia; Rheta Allen, of the Geographic Magazine, Washington.

The groom is well known in Washington, as well as over the Southwest. Mr. and Mrs. Leguence will make their home in Beaumont.—Harrisonburg Times.

Death of William Hottel.

Mr. William Hottel, a life long citizen of this county and a prosperous farmer of near Coulterville, died at the home of his son Charles on the 14th of this month and was aged 76 years, 4 months and 14 days.

His wife, whose maiden name was Dix, died about five years ago. His children, grand children, and great grand children mourn the loss of a true and benevolent support. In the world of business the deceased was active, and was successful in making and saving a nice little fortune. His relations to his neighbors were cordial and sympathetic. He was a member of the Reformed congregation at Coulterville, and his remains were laid to rest in the graveyard near the church. His funeral was held on Friday morning, in the presence of large number of relatives and friends. The services were conducted by the pastor of father Hottel, Rev. H. Ditzler who preached from 2 Cor. V:1.

County Treasurers and Commissioners of Revenue Can Succeed Themselves.

The Constitutional Amendment to allow County Treasurers and Commissioners of the Revenue to succeed themselves has carried by 1391 majority, with only two counties to hear from, (Patrick and Rappahannock.) The amendment for City Treasurers and Commissioners of the Revenues was defeated by a small majority.

AN INTERESTING CASE.

The circuit court, of Shenandoah county, Judge W. T. Harrison on the bench, was engaged for three days this week in a trial which is of more than ordinary interest to the horse dealers of the state of Virginia.

The style of the case is the Commonwealth of Virginia vs. C. A. Teawalt, charged with larceny, or obtaining money under false pretenses.

The trial grew out of a horse sale at George Miller's, in Davis District, when C. A. Teawalt of Minebank, Frederick county, sold to Lawrence Hammond of near Lebanon Church, a bay mare four years old for $145. The Commonwealth claimed that Mr. Teawalt represented the mare to be sound and by so doing effected a sale to young Hammond, whereas the mare was not sound and was a parrot mouth animal, with a weak back and both hind legs were curved, and by so misrepresenting the mare obtained the money fraudulently from Mr. Hammond.

The defendant claimed that it was a straight out sale as the mare stood, and that he only warranted her to be in good health. About 40 witnesses from the Northern part of this county and Frederick county testified.

Thursday afternoon the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of petty larceny and fined the defendant $50.

This is the first case of this kind ever tried in Virginia, and if the verdict stands it will make horse buying an easy proposition in Virginia.

The jury was composed of the following well known county men: Chas. M. Krupp, Sam'l P. Jones, Chas. C. Bowman, Homer F. Fry, P. W. Barlick, S. B. Clem, Eli Coverstone, J. Marcellus Boyer, Homer P. Myers, foreman; Harry Fainstock, S. F. Hess, DeKalb Ordndorf.

DECISIONS REVERSED.

The Court of Appeals in session at Richmond handed down two decisions Thursday reversing the verdict in the following cases from Shenandoah County:

Mrs. Amos D. Johnson vs. Southern Railway, verdict for plaintiff for $5,500. The case grew out of the Tugh's Run wreck when Mr. Johnson was killed.

Benj. Sutherland vs. Mrs. Fanny Emswiler, verdict was in favor of defendant.

DAVID H. HOTTEL.

David H. Hottel died at his home near Calvary, Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock, aged 73 years, 3 months and 10 days.

Mr. Hottel has been in declining health for the past two years, suffering from a disease of the heart, and the end has been expected for some time.

At the outbreak of the civil war, he shouldered his musket and gallantly defended Virginia's honor as a member of Co. K, 7th Virginia Cavalry.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Alice Sager. Funeral services were conducted at the Lutheran church at Fairview by his pastor, Rev. Oney, Thursday afternoon.
